VERSE 1

I

I'm not writing this diary so any other eyes'll see it

IV

I'm not humming this melody so any other ears'll hear it

I

If I'm ever a memory in the annals of history

vi

I'll probably be, probably be misunderstood

vi

I

But I'm happy to die, I'm happy to die a fool¹

VERSE 2

It's not love or wanderlust for living in the wilderness

It's a nagging sense of "inverted homesickness"

If there's "no reserves, no retreats," and "no regrets"

For the kind of ending only my Father knew

I'm happy to die, I'm happy to die a fool

CHORUS

V

vi

IV

I heard Him whisper for Bethlehem's water²

V

vi

IV

I heard Him whisper for Bethlehem's water

vi

V

IV

And I'll probably be, probably be misunderstood

vi

IV

I

But I'm happy to die, I'm happy to die a fool

VERSE 3

I've torched every bridge³ and burned the trash of accolades⁴

I hear Iscariot crying out, "o, but why this waste?!"⁵

For the Pearl in the dirt I have leveraged everything⁶

Death is a gain eternity will prove as true⁷

O, and I'm happy to die, I'm happy to die a fool

CHORUS

I heard Him whisper for Bethlehem's water
